SUBJECT : Revalidation of Secure Voice Requirements for Allocation of KY-70 Terminals

1. ☐ Agency components have had, for some years, requirements for secure voice service outside the Washington area which could not be economically satisfied by high quality wideband secure voice systems. In late 1977 the Office of Communications was authorized to procure a limited quantity of KY-70 terminals which provide improved quality narrowband voice operation using commercial telephone lines. Delivery of these terminals is scheduled to begin in April/May 1979.

2. ☐ The limited quantity of KY-70 terminals to be available will require that allocation be made according to the relative priorities of the Agency requirements. The Office of Communications formally has received secure voice requirements from several components which could be satisfied with the KY-70. However, the documentation is dated and requirements may have changed sufficiently to warrant review. Also, the formal requirements received may not encompass all Agency requirements which should be considered in allocating the KY-70 equipment.

3. ☐ It is requested that Office Directors provide the Office of Communications a current listing of their secure voice requirements, in priority order, by 1 August 1978.
